Removing the password set for a RAR file == decrypting it. It is the same. The password is used to look up the encryption key, and all archived data is encrypted. Removing the password set for the ZIP file == decrypting the contents of the ZIP file. It is the same. The password is used to look up the encryption key and all archived data is encrypted. Removing the password set for a RAR file == decrypting it. It is the same. The password is used to look up the encryption key and all archived data is encrypted. If a password has been set for the RAR archive, then it can only be removed using RAR. How to do this will be shown below.
