At least one third of jobs advertised for work in the finance, insurance and real estate, professional services, and manufacturing sectors were not listed on the agency's website, a new survey by the Germany Employers Federation (BDF) found. It also said less than half of the 679 works councils polled had access to Randstad's job platform. The BDF said foreign companies were often reluctant to advertise on Randstad's website because they feared they would have to pay to display their vacancies in the weekly jobs database. "On the one hand, Randstad has been pushed out of the job market; on the other hand, it's effectively made it harder for German companies to find employees," the organization said in a statement. "The German economy needs workers and employers, but even more than that, people like to work," it added. "There are 1.7 million vacancies in Germany today. Everyone wants to work. Yet many companies are not able to tap into this energy. Employers do not have enough opportunities to choose from." The BDF said companies had a collective shortfall of more than 400,000 employees, with demand for skilled staff far outstripping supply. Countries where Randstad was more heavily represented included Italy, Spain, the UK, Ireland, Germany and Sweden. It is unclear how many jobs Randstad adds to the weekly listings in Germany. A spokesman said the agency regularly consulted with German companies regarding format changes, but he would not disclose the number of jobs which were not listed on its site. He

What it does? ---------------- Search for the latest Bing photos. Bing Dynamic Theme, as its name suggests, is a pack of photos taken directly from Bing. Thus, it is known that the program keeps updating regularly by streaming a list of current photos from the search engine's servers. These photographs come in high resolution and are in ZIP format, so they can be displayed in any software that can handle images of this format. The pictures are put in four folders with names that are catchy: Animals, Flowers, Landscape, and Water.
